

FACES OF THE FRONT

Chris VanArsdale of the Canal Park Development Association

Chris VanArsdale is the Executive Director of the Canal Park Development Association and has been a part of the Capitol Riverfront Community since 2008. Canal Park is underway, and Chris is excited about how our neighborhood is growing and changing, because "being close to all the change happening here is exciting - you can see it happening week by week. A whole new part of the city is being stitched together before our eyes."

Chris said his favorite thing about the community is "Canal Park, of course, especially since the school buses departed!" Chris also thinks that The Yards Park is a great new addition to the neighborhood and that Cornercopia makes a great sandwich. He chose to come to the Capitol Riverfront community because working with a great company like William C Smith provides a opportunity to help create a vibrant new neighborhood.

For the future of the Capitol Riverfront, Chris is anxious to see the completion of Canal Park, along with all of the new "residential, office, and retail, art gallery, coffee shops, grocery store, restaurants, etc. that are planned directly adjacent to the park." Because of Chris' efforts at William C. Smith, and the Canal Park Development Association, the Riverfront is just getting better and better.
