

FACES OF THE FRONT

Clean & Safe Team member Bernard White celebrates his 5 year anniversary as an employee in the Capitol Riverfront this fall. Bernard began working in the Capitol Riverfront as a security guard in Yards Park and joined the Clean & Safe Team in 2013. Bernard is now a Clean & Safe team supervisor, setting an excellent example for new team members and helping neighborhood residents and visitors on a daily basis. "As one of the original security guards in Yards Park Bernard has been an exemplary employee and friend to the park," said BID president Michael Stevens. "He has been a model of responsibility, dedication and friendly service, and we are glad he is part of the BID team." Read on and get to know a little more about Bernard!

As a Clean & Safe team supervisor, you spend a good bit of time outdoors throughout the Capitol Riverfront. What is your favorite outdoor spot in the neighborhood?

I enjoy Yards Park because it has everything you need: food, fun, tranquility, and nature.

What is your favorite Capitol Riverfront event?

Friday Night concerts are always fun for me since I really enjoy live music.

What has been your favorite moment in the Capitol Riverfront since you began working here five years ago?

Protecting the Dalai Lama on his visit to Yards Park on July 18, 2011.

What is the most significant change you've seen in this neighborhood over the past five years?

The amount of construction in the area. Can't even imagine what the next 5 years will bring.

The Capitol Riverfront is an exciting place to work and play, but we know that you enjoy doing other activities. What are some of your hobbies?

I really like landscaping and spending time with my family.

Tell us a fun fact about yourself that Front Page News readers may not know.

I love to watch car and motorcycle racing.

Use one word to describe the Capitol Riverfront neighborhood.

A Gem