

Nikki Palmer-Burger

Nikki Palmer-Burger is a Yards Park volunteer that loves the park events, particularly the Summer Concert series. She is a newly married to her husband Hank and a proud mother. Despite the fact that she has a four-month-old daughter Naia she comes down to the park to volunteer for the concerts. Nikki said, "I like the Capitol Riverfront because the atmosphere is family friendly." Nikki particularly likes the waterjets for the kids and the benches to relax on. Her son Clifton General III is successful student and a future Army soldier.

Nikki is a full-time graduate student as well as a stay at home mom. Nikki has been a Washingtonian since 1982, but lived in Northwest DC until she bought her condo in Southeast 6 years ago. Nikki added, "I think the BID is doing a great job so far, especially with the variety of artists playing for the summer shows." The Capitol Riverfront would like to thank Nikki and all the Yards Park volunteers for their hard work and their commitment to the neighborhood.
